

THE CITY AND COUNTY CANDIDATES.

INFORMATION AS TO THE MEN TO BE VOTED FOR.

THE FULL TICKETS OF THE THREE PARTIES—CLAIMS OF THE NOMINEES FOR THE SUPPORT OF VOTERS
—SUPERIORITY OF THE REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS OVER THOSE OF THE OTHER PARTIES—TWO DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES FOR NEARLY ALL THE OFFICES.

The candidates for local and State offices have now nearly all been nominated. Rarely have there been so many candidates for local offices. The dissensions in the Democratic party have encouraged independent Democrats and Republicans to put men forward in districts that have hitherto been considered as completely under the control of the "machine" element in the Democratic party. The Anti-Tammany Democrats, moreover, in their desire to secure votes for Governor Robinson have nominated candidates in every district where their presence may embarrass a candidate nominated by Tammany Hall, intending on election day to trade votes for the local nominees for votes for Governor Robinson. Another purpose of this policy is so to frighten the Tammany candidates with a show of opposition that they will not dare to work actively for Mr. Kelly's success. Republican candidates are run in every district where the Democrats are thus dividing the voters of their party faith, in the hope that Republican may slip into office between the Democratic candidates.

THE COUNTY TICKETS.

Republican.

Sheriff. Robert C. Brown.
County Clerk. Ferdinand Ehart.
Justice of Common Pleas. Elihu Root.
Judges of Marine Court. G. Alexander Bummestiel,
G. Frank P. Hawes.
Coroners. John H. Brady,
Morris F. Mead.
Aldermen-at-Large. Michael W. Burns,
Luther Horton,
William Wade,
Francis Snyder.

Civil Justices. J. C. J. Langbein,
James R. Angel.
The candidates for county offices are making a very vigorous canvas. Robert C. Brown, the Republican nominee for Sheriff, although actively engaged in business, is thoroughly acquainted with the politicians of the county. As he is not a novice in politics his canvass for votes is a telling one, and as he has a great number of friends in the Republican organization, his election is confidently expected. There is some opposition to him in the papers only because of the fact that he supported Mr. Greeley in 1872, but this opposition is not mutual.

William R. Roberts, the Tammany candidate, is not heartily supported by that organization. He is unpopular with many of its leaders and will, therefore, be much "scratched" on election day. Peter Bowe, the Anti-Tammany candidate, has lost much strength since it became known that he was connected with the Sheriff's office when James O'Brien was succeeded.

The Republican candidate for County Clerk, Ferdinand Ehart, is a reputable business man, and has the support of the mercantile classes. Complaint is made by Republican politicians, however, that Mr. Ehart is showing little interest in the canvass, and he may consequently run behind the rest of the ticket. Henry A. Gunnibeton, the Tammany candidate is zealously supported by that branch of the Democracy. It is deemed a point of honor to reflect him in view of his removal by Governor Robinson. William A. Butler, the Anti-Tammany candidate, received the nomination after a fierce struggle with the friends of County Clerk Thompson, and therefore began his canvass under discouraging circumstances.

The three candidates for Justices of Common Pleas are all good in every way in the opinion of their brethren at the bar. Elihu Root, the Republican candidate, has the advantage of the hearty support of the young lawyers of the city, and of having been engaged in important matters in the courts, which have drawn to him the eyes of the public. Mr. Root's friends are making a remarkably vigorous canvas in his behalf. Frederick Smyth, the Tammany candidate, having been defeated when nominated for important offices by Tammany Hall, probably does not feel very sanguine of success. Miles Beach, the Anti-Tammany candidate, is now holding the office. He is making an active canvass.

The contest for Judges of the Marine Court is chiefly between the Republican and the Tammany candidates:

THE CANDIDATES.

Republican.

IV. Matthew Stewart.
V. John W. Jacobs.
VI. John J. Morris.
VI. Frederick Finch.

VII. Robert R. Hamilton.
VIII. John W. Montgomery.
VIII. Henry C. Peleg.
X. John McElroy.
XI. Thomas Carroll.
XII. James F. Long.
XIII. Henry Buffum.

The candidates for District Aldermen have not been selected with much care, although the Republican and the Anti-Tammany lists include some excellent men. Matthew Stewart, the R-publican candidate, is the only one in the IVth District worthy of earnest support. The record of Thomas Sheehan and William P. Kirk, the Tammany candidates, in public office, is not a good one; and Jeremiah Murphy and Thomas Brady, the Anti-Tammany candidates, have done nothing worthy of note.

The R-publican candidate in the Vth District, John W. Jacobs and John J. Morris, have exerted their abilities as Aldermen in such a manner as to earn the gratitude of their fellow citizens irrespective of party lines. Mr. Morris has been abused because as leader of the Republicans in the Board he defeated the confirmation of Mayor Cooper's nominees for Police Commissioners, a confirmation that would have enabled Mr. Tilden to pack the boards of inspectors of election with men who would have done all in their power to entrap Mr. Cornell. This abuse of Mr. Morris has aroused his friends, however, and they are making an energetic canvas. John Cavanagh and Bernard Goodwin, the Tammany candidates, and Matthew Parker, Jr., the sole Anti-Tammany candidate, are men of no mark.

In the Vth District the Republican candidate is Fredrick Finch, who has done good service in the Board.

THE CANDIDATES.

Republican.

IX. Philip S. Warner.
X. Ferdinand Edmann.

XI. Robert H. Strahan.

XII. Francis M. Murphy.

XIII. Charles A. Jackson.

XIV. George H. Forster.

Edward Hogan has been renominated for the Senate in the Vth District by Tammany. Cornelius Flynn, one of Tweed's cronies, is the Anti-Tammany candidate. There is no Republican nominee.

In the VIth District the Republican candidate is Philip S. Warner, a business man. Jacob Seebacher, the author of a bill in the last Legislature to permit the rapid transit companies to put a track through Nassau-st., is the Tammany candidate. Peter H. Jones, the Anti-Tammany nominee, an agent has no political record.

Ferdinand Edmann is the Republican nominee in the VIIth District with an excellent prospect of being elected. The Germans of the Anti-Tammany and Tammany organizations have refused to support Thomas J. Cremer, the candidate of those organizations.

George H. Forster has been nominated by the Republicans of the VIIIth District. He is a prominent and able lawyer of this city and well acquainted with legislative work, having been a member of the Assembly also one of the leaders of the Republicans in that body. John H. Haslam, an ex-Congressman, who was last year a member of Tammany Hall, vehemently, is now the candidate of that organization. T. C. E. Ecclesone, the present member, is the candidate of Anti-Tammany. His record at Albany has not won the approval of the intelligent classes.

THE CANDIDATES.

Republican.

IX. W. M. Davis.

X. Charles W. Horay.

XI. Bernard J. Deoras.

XII. James W. McRee.

XIII. William J. Keys.

XIV. Isaac L. Hayes.

XV. John E. Brodsky.

XVI. George B. Deane.

XVII. Edward Gross.

XVIII. John F. Blair.

XIX. Louis H. Helm.

XVII. Charles S. Dwell.

XVIII. David S. Brown.

XIX. Wm. McRee.

XVII. Alexander W. Ditch.

XVIII. John E. Davidson.

XIX. Ferdinand Levy.

XVII. Maurice F. Holahan.

XVIII. John H. Kinsella.

XIX. James Graham.

XVII. James W. Perry.

XVIII. John F. Blair.

XIX. John H. Strahan.

XVII. Edward H. Mitchell.

XVIII. James McKeena.

XIX. Donald McLean.

XVII. John H. Monaghan.

XVIII. James W. Wells.

The candidates in the Xth District are not men of prominence.

James M. Varian, the Republican candidate in the Xth District, proved himself in the Assembly of 1870 a true representative of the intelligent class of voters that elected him. Although it was his first term, Mr. Varian took a leading position and did valuable service for this city.

Maurice F. Holahan was renominated for the Assembly in the XIth District. An account of the candidates in the XIth District is given in yesterday's TRIBUNE.

In the remaining districts of the city, except in the XXIVth, men unacquainted with the work at Albany were nominated. James L. Wells, who was last year a member from Westchester County, was this year nominated by the Republicans of the XXIVth District of the city. Mr. Wells deserves recognition, as he was faithful and zealous in the execution of his duties during the last session.

Dr. I. L. Hayes, who has done such good work for the city in the Legislature, is again the Republican candidate in the VIIIth District. John E. Brodsky, the Republican candidate in the VIIth District, apparently will be successful. The Republicans of the IXth District renominated George B. Deane, in reward for their excellent work at Albany last winter. The candidates in the Xth District are not men of prominence.

James M. Varian, the Republican candidate in the Xth District, proved himself in the Assembly of 1870 a true representative of the intelligent class of voters that elected him. Although it was his first term, Mr. Varian took a leading position and did valuable service for this city.

Maurice F. Holahan was renominated for the Assembly in the XIth District. An account of the candidates in the XIth District is given in yesterday's TRIBUNE.

In the remaining districts of the city, except in the XXIVth, men unacquainted with the work at Albany were nominated. James L. Wells, who was last year a member from Westchester County, was this year nominated by the Republicans of the XXIVth District of the city. Mr. Wells deserves recognition, as he was faithful and zealous in the execution of his duties during the last session.

Dr. I. L. Hayes, who has done such good work for the city in the Legislature, is again the Republican candidate in the VIIIth District. John E. Brodsky, the Republican candidate in the VIIth District, apparently will be successful. The Republicans of the IXth District renominated George B. Deane, in reward for their excellent work at Albany last winter. The candidates in the Xth District are not men of prominence.

James M. Varian, the Republican candidate in the Xth District, proved himself in the Assembly of 1870 a true representative of the intelligent class of voters that elected him. Although it was his first term, Mr. Varian took a leading position and did valuable service for this city.

Maurice F. Holahan was renominated for the Assembly in the XIth District. An account of the candidates in the XIth District is given in yesterday's TRIBUNE.

In the remaining districts of the city, except in the XXIVth, men unacquainted with the work at Albany were nominated. James L. Wells, who was last year a member from Westchester County, was this year nominated by the Republicans of the XXIVth District of the city. Mr. Wells deserves recognition, as he was faithful and zealous in the execution of his duties during the last session.

Dr. I. L. Hayes, who has done such good work for the city in the Legislature, is again the Republican candidate in the VIIIth District. John E. Brodsky, the Republican candidate in the VIIth District, apparently will be successful. The Republicans of the IXth District renominated George B. Deane, in reward for their excellent work at Albany last winter. The candidates in the Xth District are not men of prominence.

James M. Varian, the Republican candidate in the Xth District, proved himself in the Assembly of 1870 a true representative of the intelligent class of voters that elected him. Although it was his first term, Mr. Varian took a leading position and did valuable service for this city.

Maurice F. Holahan was renominated for the Assembly in the XIth District. An account of the candidates in the XIth District is given in yesterday's TRIBUNE.

In the remaining districts of the city, except in the XXIVth, men unacquainted with the work at Albany were nominated. James L. Wells, who was last year a member from Westchester County, was this year nominated by the Republicans of the XXIVth District of the city. Mr. Wells deserves recognition, as he was faithful and zealous in the execution of his duties during the last session.

Dr. I. L. Hayes, who has done such good work for the city in the Legislature, is again the Republican candidate in the VIIIth District. John E. Brodsky, the Republican candidate in the VIIth District, apparently will be successful. The Republicans of the IXth District renominated George B. Deane, in reward for their excellent work at Albany last winter. The candidates in the Xth District are not men of prominence.

James M. Varian, the Republican candidate in the Xth District, proved himself in the Assembly of 1870 a true representative of the intelligent class of voters that elected him. Although it was his first term, Mr. Varian took a leading position and did valuable service for this city.

Maurice F. Holahan was renominated for the Assembly in the XIth District. An account of the candidates in the XIth District is given in yesterday's TRIBUNE.

In the remaining districts of the city, except in the XXIVth, men unacquainted with the work at Albany were nominated. James L. Wells, who was last year a member from Westchester County, was this year nominated by the Republicans of the XXIVth District of the city. Mr. Wells deserves recognition, as he was faithful and zealous in the execution of his duties during the last session.

Dr. I. L. Hayes, who has done such good work for the city in the Legislature, is again the Republican candidate in the VIIIth District. John E. Brodsky, the Republican candidate in the VIIth District, apparently will be successful. The Republicans of the IXth District renominated George B. Deane, in reward for their excellent work at Albany last winter. The candidates in the Xth District are not men of prominence.

James M. Varian, the Republican candidate in the Xth District, proved himself in the Assembly of 1870 a true representative of the intelligent class of voters that elected him. Although it was his first term, Mr. Varian took a leading position and did valuable service for this city.

Maurice F. Holahan was renominated for the Assembly in the XIth District. An account of the candidates in the XIth District is given in yesterday's TRIBUNE.

In the remaining districts of the city, except in the XXIVth, men unacquainted with the work at Albany were nominated. James L. Wells, who was last year a member from Westchester County, was this year nominated by the Republicans of the XXIVth District of the city. Mr. Wells deserves recognition, as he was faithful and zealous in the execution of his duties during the last session.

Dr. I. L. Hayes, who has done such good work for the city in the Legislature, is again the Republican candidate in the VIIIth District. John E. Brodsky, the Republican candidate in the VIIth District, apparently will be successful. The Republicans of the IXth District renominated George B. Deane, in reward for their excellent work at Albany last winter. The candidates in the Xth District are not men of prominence.

James M. Varian, the Republican candidate in the Xth District, proved himself in the Assembly of 1870 a true representative of the intelligent class of voters that elected him. Although it was his first term, Mr. Varian took a leading position and did valuable service for this city.

Maurice F. Holahan was renominated for the Assembly in the XIth District. An account of the candidates in the XIth District is given in yesterday's TRIBUNE.

In the remaining districts of the city, except in the XXIVth, men unacquainted with the work at Albany were nominated. James L. Wells, who was last year a member from Westchester County, was this year nominated by the Republicans of the XXIVth District of the city. Mr. Wells deserves recognition, as he was faithful and zealous in the execution of his duties during the last session.

Dr. I. L. Hayes, who has done such good work for the city in the Legislature, is again the Republican candidate in the VIIIth District. John E. Brodsky, the Republican candidate in the VIIth District, apparently will be successful. The Republicans of the IXth District renominated George B. Deane, in reward for their excellent work at Albany last winter. The candidates in the Xth District are not men of prominence.

James M. Varian, the Republican candidate in the Xth District, proved himself in the Assembly of 1870 a true representative of the intelligent class of voters that elected him. Although it was his first term, Mr. Varian took a leading position and did valuable service for this city.

Maurice F. Holahan was renominated for the Assembly in the XIth District. An account of the candidates in the XIth District is given in yesterday's TRIBUNE.

In the remaining districts of the city, except in the XXIVth, men unacquainted with the work at Albany were nominated. James L. Wells, who was last year a member from Westchester County, was this year nominated by the Republicans of the XXIVth District of the city. Mr. Wells deserves recognition, as he was faithful and zealous in the execution of his duties during the last session.

Dr. I. L. Hayes, who has done such good work for the city in the Legislature, is again the Republican candidate in the VIIIth District. John E. Brodsky, the Republican candidate in the VIIth District, apparently will be successful. The Republicans of the IXth District renominated George B. Deane, in reward for their excellent work at Albany last winter. The candidates in the Xth District are not men of prominence.

James M. Varian, the Republican candidate in the Xth District, proved himself in the Assembly of 1870 a true representative of the intelligent class of voters that elected him. Although it was his first term, Mr. Varian took a leading position and did valuable service for this city.

Maurice F. Holahan was renominated for the Assembly in the XIth District. An account of the candidates in the XIth District is given in yesterday's TRIBUNE.

In the remaining districts of the city, except in the XXIVth, men unacquainted with the work at Albany were nominated. James L. Wells, who was last year a member from Westchester County, was this year nominated by the Republicans of the XXIVth District of the city. Mr. Wells deserves recognition, as he was faithful and zealous in the execution of his duties during the last session.

Dr. I. L. Hayes, who has done such good work for the city in the Legislature, is again the Republican candidate in the VIIIth District. John E. Brodsky, the Republican candidate in the VII